E Lancs entrepreneurs win top honours in national campaign

Fledgling firms are doing the business

Two East Lancashire entrepreneurs have won top honours in a campaign to find the country's best fledgling businesses.

My Vintage, based in Darwen, supplies clothing, jewellery and accessories, from the 1920s to the 1980s, to a wide range of customers, including celebrities like Arlene Phillips, Lauren Laverne and Corrie star Julie Hesmondhalgh.

The other winner, Beauty in the Universe, was created in Burnley to promote interest in science by running courses and events to educate children and adults about astronomy, astro-physics, space exploration, and climate change.

Each firm will receive a free three-month advertising campaign in our sister newspaper, the Lancashire Telegraph, and mentoring from Mike Damms, chief executive of East Lancashire Chamber of Commerce, and Aileen Evans, executive director of Hyndburn Enterprise Trust.

The awards are part of the Local Business Accelerators scheme – an initiative spearheaded nationally by the voice of local media, the Newspaper Society.

My Vintage is run by partners

LOCAL BUSINESS ACCELERATORS

Emma Brown and Simon Farnworth, at Gillibrand Mill, Percival Street. They began selling fashion items on eBay bought from antique fairs and flea markets.

"We buy from the public, even people clearing out their attics, and sell through our website.

"Clothing we have supplied has appeared in Vogue, Look and Heat magazines, and our vintage wares have been bought for use in Hollyoaks, Waterloo Road, and the national TV awards," said Emma, 29.

Adam Whittaker, of Sycamore Avenue, Burnley, who has a degree in astronomy from UCLAN, started Beauty in the Universe with three friends. "I lived in the Rosegrove area and had no garden, so I had to stand outside my front door with my telescope. People would approach me on their way home from the pub and express interest in learning more about the stars."

CELEBRITY CLIENTS: Partner Emma Brown at the My Vintage shop, in Darwen

The business last year received a £24,000 grant from the Adult Community Learning Fund to deliver a course called 'Stars and Stuff' for adults in Darwen.

Lancashire Telegraph head of advertising Andy Phelan said: "We were impressed at the initiative shown by both these businesses."

Elvis poet to grace stage Down Under

Elvis fan Darryl Ashton, from Hyndburn, is all shook up after being invited to recite his poems about the King on stage at the Sydney Opera House.

Book in for free heart screening

Appointments are being taken for the last-ever Cardiac Risk in the Young (CRY) heart screening event in Darwen.

Pensioner Irene Wickers, who has organised the events since 1997 with Grenville Staff, is giving up because of poor health. Mr Staff has already retired. Mrs Wickers, of Cyprus Street, estimates that up to 56 lives have been saved since screenings began, paid for by the Neil Wickers and David Staff Memorial Fund. The final screening is on February 18. To join the appointment list, call 01254 707895.

Pond cleaned

Teams of volunteers have been improving an Accrington park's pondlife. Residents, with the help of the Prospects Foundation and gardeners from Incredible Edibles Accrington, cleaned out the pond in Oakhill Park to attract more frogs and wildlife.

Litter louts warning

Concerns have been raised over an increase in littering in Audley Lane, Blackburn. Police in the Audley area have made the issue a priority for the next month.

Work to improve town centre look

By JON LIVESEY

SHOPPER-FRIENDLY: Work has already created seating areas in King William Street

The latest phase of work to enhance Blackburn town centre will see new trees, street furniture, and lighting installed in the main shopping area.

The majority of the work, which was due to begin on Monday, will take place in King William Street and Lord Street.

It is part of a wider project to attract more visitors to Blackburn town centre, which has already seen a new seating area created in the square in King William Street.

A Blackburn with Darwen Council spokesman said: "This project is part of a larger scheme to improve pedestrian safety, enhance the environment, and stimulate further regeneration in Blackburn town centre.

"It is the intention to create pedestrian-friendly and attractive environments that support the development of town centre shopping and leisure, and attract visitors to the area."

Work at the junction of King William Street and New Market Street is likely to last around four weeks, before continuing towards Debenhams and Lord Street. Contractors will then work on the section of Lord Street, between King William Street and Lower Northgate, from the beginning of March.

The work is likely to cause some disruption as sections of King William Street, Lord Street, New Market Street, Town Hall Street, and Northgate, will be closed to traffic. During the closures, pedestrian access in King William Street and Lord Street, and to premises along them, will be maintained at all times, says the council.

Elvis poet centre stage Down Under

By EMMA CRUCES

'AMAZING': Darryl says he can't wait to travel to Australia to recite his poems about Elvis, right

An Elvis fan from Hyndburn is all shook up after being invited to recite his poems on stage at the Sydney Opera House.

Darryl Ashton, from Great Harwood, only published his volume of poetry nine months ago and has already been invited to Graceland, and on an Elvis-themed cruise.

Now he has been asked to perform at a special event Down Under to mark the 35th anniversary of the death of the King. The summer event will be screened on TV across the country, and is also expected to be syndicated around the world.

The former QE2 restaurant manager said he has been 'flabbergasted' at the response to his poems 'Happy Birthday, Elvis' and 'An Interview with the King, Elvis'.

The 52-year-old said: "It's amazing and I can't wait to travel to Australia and take part in this amazing event.

"It's really exciting because it's been one thing after another and the response has just snowballed.

"As well as the Opera House, and being invited to Graceland, I've been asked to appear at Elvis festivals in Europe, and to read my poetry at hotels. It's fantastic that people enjoy what I have written so much."

Darryl started writing poetry five years ago, after medical retirement from a career in hospitality that included the post of Silver Service Restaurant Manager on the QE2.

He originally found fame as a stand-up comedy poet on the local circuit of poetry clubs and published his first book of poetry, My World of Poems, in April last year.

After Darryl's triumph in being invited to Graceland was featured in our sister newspaper, the Lancashire Telegraph, its online story attracted the attention of the Sydney Opera House. To read his poetry visit www.comedypoet.wordpress.com

Extra police patrols in louts hotspots

Nuisance hotspots are to see extra police patrols in Accrington this month.

Police say they have received reports of people involved in anti-social behaviour around Abbeydale Way, Pickup Street, and Rimington Avenue.

Local matters

Residents in the Ewood area of Blackburn can raise local issues with councillors at a Ward Solutions meeting, at Ivy Street Community Centre, on January 19, at 6.30pm.

Community soccer

Football sessions organised by Livesey Community Association take place on Wednesdays, in Fernhurst School, Heys Lane, Blackburn. The sessions cost £1. Contact Louise on 07581451374 for further details.

Rat-run action

Police are to crack down on motorists who use the prohibited stretch outside Accrington Town Hall as a rat-run.

Hospital meals spend revealed

By NEIL DOCKING

Hospitals in East Lancashire are spending as little as £2.38 per meal for patients.

A massive disparity in what is spent on patients around the country was revealed in statistics compiled by the NHS Information Centre.

They showed that nationally some hospitals had allocated just £2.57 a day – or 86p a meal.

At the other end of the scale, some NHS trusts were spending as much as £22.31 – £7.44 a meal – on breakfast, lunch, and dinner, for each patient in their care.

East Lancashire Hospitals NHS Trust, which runs Royal Blackburn Hospital and Burnley General Hospital, spent the least in the region – £2.38 per meal and £7.14 per day.

Next was Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust, which delivers community services, as well as specialist mental health services, and allocates £2.51 per meal and £7.52 per day.

Calderstones Partnership NHS Foundation Trust, which has a medium secure unit in Whalley and provides specialist services to in-patients and out-patients, spent almost twice as much – £4.68 per meal and £14.04 per day.

PATIENTS: Spending at sites varies

NHS East Lancashire, the primary care trust which covers Hyndburn, Ribble Valley, Burnley, Pendle, and Rossendale, spent the most during 2010/11 – £4.98 per meal and £14.94 per day. This was for meals served at Accrington Victoria Community Hospital and Clitheroe Community Hospital, and was set by East Lancashire Hospitals NHS Trust. NHS Blackburn with Darwen Care Trust Plus does not provide such services.

A spokesperson for Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust said: "When looking at catering costs, a high spend isn't always an indicator of quality. Costs are variable and fluctuate depending on the number of patients that are occupying beds within the service.

"Therefore, standalone sites will often have higher costs because they are catering for fewer people, but require the same catering infrastructure (chefs, managers, equipment and food) as a service that is providing for many more people, which affects the spend per person."

The Hospitals Trust was unavailable for comment

Katherine Murphy, of the Patients' Association, said health bosses had priorities other than food, despite a balanced diet being "vitally important".

She said: "Sadly, catering is not seen as a priority by the NHS, but it's a false economy."

Zumba classes

Do you want to keep fit?

A new Zumba class has started at Livesey Children's and All Age Centre, in Andrew's Close, off Heys Close, Blackburn, on Mondays, from 6pm to 7pm. It is organised by Livesey Community Association.

Tower set to benefit from mayor's show

An inaugral Darwen Town Council mayor's command performance will raise money to maintain Darwen Tower – which now has its dome again after it was lowered into place by helicopter.

A similar event for the Mayor of Blackburn with Darwen has been held for a decade at Darwen's Library Theatre. Now, the Mayor of Darwen will get his, or her, own show, with the town's 115-year-old monument to benefit.

Town councillor Stephen Potter, who is responsible for the newly-formed Friends of Darwen Tower group, said: "We started the group when the dome blew off and we are just trying to get a few people together. I have had some interest. It just needs organising properly now.

"The group would do basic cleaning of the tower to make it look nice, and make it somewhere people will still want to go. Anything the borough council doesn't have money for, we will try to do."

The command performance will be one of the events marking the out-going of present town mayor Coun Paul Browne.

Coun Browne said: "I see it as an honour for the council to do it for me in my final year as mayor. The Friends of Darwen Tower was my choice as the charity."

The show will take place at the Library Theatre on Saturday, April 14. Artists wishing to appear can contact Steve Burch at steve.burch@blackburn.gov.uk

Anyone wishing to help with the Friends of Darwen Tower group is urged to contact Coun Stephen Potter on 07756 257484 or email SPotter@darwentown council.org.uk

The tower's dome has been replaced after apprentices at Darwen metal fabrication firm WEC made a replica.

Have you ever thought about fostering?

Caritas Care needs families for many children waiting in care. For thirteen years the fostering service has provided many placements for children. The team prides itself on being small, friendly and totally committed to providing a high standard of care for children and support to the foster carers. In November 2011 OFSTED recognised the high quality services we offer to children and foster carers by awarding our contribution as 'outstanding'.

People who foster come from all walks of life, and represent different communities within modern society. The most important qualities are good health, a zest for life and a desire to make a difference to the life of a child or young person. Could this be you?

Making a contribution to the life of a child can be challenging, but also very rewarding, so think about giving a child a chance, it could be their last chance to experience stability and family life. Do you have time to care?

For more information or to request an information pack, contact a member of the fostering team on 0161 445 2933 or 01772 732313 or visit our website at www.caritascare.org.uk

Making room in home and heart

ADVERTISEMENT FEATURE

Have you ever considered providing a new family life for a child?

You might consider fostering a youngster, or maybe adopting one. There are different types of foster care, depending on the needs of both the child and their family.

These include short-term care for just a few days or weeks, to long-term placements, as well as care for disabled children, or children with behavioural problems.

Fostering is a way to help a child, or young person, through a difficult period in their lives.

It's often used to offer a child, or young person, temporary care while their own parents get help sorting out problems, or take a break.

Once those problems have been resolved, and it has been determined their parents are able to look after them safely, children often return home.

But for others, if that doesn't turn out to be the case, it may mean staying in long-term foster care, while some may be adopted, and others will move on to live independently.

Anyone can apply to be a foster carer, so long as they have the qualities needed to look after children who cannot live with their parents.

FAMILY LIFE: People are being urged to consider fostering, or adopting

Adoption, on the other hand, is where a child legally becomes a member of a new family and has one, or two, new parents.

People usually adopt a step child, or one who is in care and looked after by a local authority. If you are at least 21 years old, and can provide a permanent, stable and caring home, your application to adopt will be welcomed. Only a court can make an adoption order. The effect of the adoption order is that the birth parents no longer have any parental rights and responsibilities for their child – those rights and responsibilities are given to the adoptive parents.

Once the court has made an adoption order, the child becomes a full member of the adoptive family.

Single people, a partner of a parent of the child to be adopted, married, or unmarried couples, or civil partners, can all become adoptive parents.

Applications are considered on the basis of whether you can meet the adopted child's needs.

You and all adult members of your household will be required to have a police check.

'This is what our life would be like without Barnardo's.'

Ann and Colin, Barnardo's foster carers

Barnardo's has been successfully providing specialist fostering services in the North West for over 30 years.

We need foster carers who can provide both long term and short term family experiences for children, including disabled children.

We offer our carers:

- weekly payments between £300 – £520 depending upon the child
- the support of a dedicated professional team
- on-going training including the opportunity to complete NVQ level three in childcare.

Experience of working directly with children and young people would be an advantage, but is not essential.

Have you ever thought about adoption?

Caritas Care is a registered charity, established voluntary adoption agency recruiting families for children throughout the North West. We offer high quality services to children and families, excellent preparation training and on going support.

Children waiting for placements come from diverse backgrounds. We welcome enquiries from anyone regardless of marital status, disability, gender, religion, or sexual orientation interested in making a positive difference for these children, many of whom often have to be separated from their brothers and sisters. We are particularly seeking families for sibling groups of children so that they can continue to live together.

If you wish to learn more about adoption please contact us on 01772 732313 or 0161 445 2933 to request an information pack or to speak to a member of our experienced and helpful team, who will be available to answer any of your questions. Information is also available on our website at www.caritascare.org.uk.

Advertorial

Hundreds of children in Lancashire need a safe and happy family to live with, either permanently, or while things get sorted out at home.

Our fostering and adoption teams are looking for people who can provide a safe, loving and caring home for children who are unable to live with their own family.

At any one time Lancashire County Council is responsible for many looked-after children. We have dedicated staff who recruit, train and support suitable foster carers and adoptive parents for children.

You Can Foster

Children of many ages from many ethnic and cultural backgrounds need fostering for different reasons and for different lengths of time. Some have disabilities and some have brothers and sisters who need to live with them.

Our Fostering Service plays an essential role in making sure Lancashire's children are safe and healthy and that they can enjoy life and achieve in their own communities.

We work with dedicated and skilled foster carers and other professionals to provide the best support for our children and young people.

Don't take our word for it though. Our service, which is responsible for placing hundreds of looked-after children with foster carers in the county, is officially Outstanding, according to our latest Ofsted report .

We value and respect our foster carers and their families and if you become a foster career we will support you in any way we can. We are here to offer you help or advice 24 hours a day, every day of the year.

Our fostering team provides ongoing support to our children and foster families in a number of ways. Our support ranges from making sure you can contact a member of our team whenever you need us, to providing a generous financial package for the service you provide to our most important people, the children of Lancashire.

and the life you could give a child

In Lancashire we are very much geared up to answering adopters' questions so if you are interested in finding out more about adopting and caring for a child, please contact us for an informal chat or free and confidential advice.

Once you have made an enquiry a member of staff from our team will contact you and answer any questions you have. This does not commit you to anything but provides you with an opportunity to speak directly with a social worker experienced in adoption work.

We are committed to helping those considering adoption through the process to make it as easy as we can. We will always support and help you if you go on to adopt a child. If you could offer love and support to a child who really needs it, please call our friendly recruitment team on 0800 1951183 or visit us at lancashire.gov.uk/love

Comic Ross to make film debut

Ross Noble is one of Britain's most popular comedians. He is a regular on TV comedy panel shows such as QI and Have I Got News For You, and will make his film debut in a comic horror being released next year. His latest DVD, Headspace Cowboy, is available to buy now.

60 SECONDS WITH ... ROSS NOBLE

YOU HAVE A REPUTATION FOR GIVING AWAY A LOT OF MATERIAL WITH YOUR DVDS. IS IT IMPORTANT THAT FANS GET VALUE FOR MONEY?

It's important, yes. I suppose it's an advantage of sorts that I can bung loads of shows on there because I don't do what a lot of comics do, which is write a show, learn it by heart, and then tour it. I want people who haven't seen me to get a better idea of what it's like at the live shows.

SO DO YOU HAVE A COMIC PROCESS AT ALL? DO YOU EVER WRITE A SHOW?

My stuff's a lot more loose. I come up with stuff, throw it out there, and I might go back to it and I might not. It's organic, although saying that makes me cringe. I just can't put a definitive show on a disc.

YOU'RE KNOWN FOR AUDIENCE PARTICIPATION AS WELL...

Audience participation sounds horrible. It's like I'm putting them on stage and making fun of them. I hate all that. It's not for me. I don't like picking on people. I want people to feel involved. If people want to shout stuff out, I encourage them.

AND I BELIEVE YOU ARE MOVING INTO MOVIES?

I don't even know if I should be telling you this. Oh, go on, I'll tell you. Roughly, I'm a kids' entertainer who hates kids and, at this party, a bunch of children kill me by accident, then years later I come back and start bumping them off. I'm liking doing a bit of acting. I might do a bit more if I think I can do it well.

Young comedian in home town gig

CRAFT: Lewis Costello

Life is getting harder for Blackburn comedian Lewis Costello – but he couldn't be happier about it.

Lewis first got up on stage as a 15-year-old schoolboy for a five-minute slot at the Blackburn with Darwen Comedy Festival in 2008.

Now, with his 19th birthday looming and an impressive comedy CV behind him, he's glad audiences regard him as a serious comedian, rather than some sort of precocious novelty act.

"I can't hide behind my age any more," said Lewis. "That means there's more pressure when I go on stage, but I don't want it any other way."

Lewis is to headline his own show at the Thwaites Empire Theatre tonight (Wednesday), which he sees as one of the biggest shows of his career to date.

"I have a lot of new material which I'll be trying out," he said. "At the start of the year I like to get rid of all the old stuff and start again, but for this show, as it's in my home town and it's not just a brief slot, I will have some tried and tested favourites in reserve."

Having left St Mary's College, Blackburn, last summer, Lewis, from Brownhill, is now working on his comedy full-time. Lewis's CV makes for impressive reading. He's supported the likes of Ed Byrne and American Doug Stanhope, written for Russell Howard's BBC3 TV show and performed shows in America, at the Edinburgh Festival and at some of the leading comedy clubs in the North West with the likes of Johnny Vegas.

"It's taken me quite a while to realise there is a definite craft to being a comedian. Johnny Vegas has been great giving me advice and critiquing my shows at the Frog and Bucket in Manchester. You couldn't buy that kind of help."

■ Lewis Costello, Thwaites Empire Theatre, Blackburn, January 18. Details from the box office on 01254 685500.

General Vacancies

DIGITAL MEDIA SALES EXECUTIVE

Newsquest (North West) Ltd

Newsquest (North West) Ltd has a field sales vacancy, based at our Blackburn office, to sell a newly launched digital service for students and businesses in locations throughout the North West.

We've got a great product and a great sales story, and we're about to embark upon an awareness campaign to ensure we reach the widest possible customer base. We need someone who can evangelise about new media and the impact it will have on a customer's marketing activity and results.

Key to success in the role is the ability to get a range of businesses fully active in the service and encourage participation in our free trial promotions. This is about changing established behaviours and introducing new media concepts that challenge tried and tested marketing activities. To do this successfully you need to have the knowledge to back up your passion for all things digital.

The role would suit someone with experience of new media sales and the impact it can have on the SME market. This is not an account management role (well not until we target the Corporate market in phase 2) and the successful candidate will be able to sell to small business owners as easily and successfully as they can to decision makers in larger organisations. They should be able to demonstrate success in this area. Knowledge and or experience of the student, work or discount/deals market online would be a distinct advantage.

The position offers a generous salary, company car and bonus scheme. Additional benefits include a stakeholder pension scheme and 33 days holidays a year (including Bank Holidays). In the first instance candidates should send their CV with a covering letter, explaining how they can personally make a difference to a business, with massive growth potential to helpdesk@s-now.co.uk

Closing Date Friday 20th January 2011

Previous applicants need not apply

Newsquest (North West) Limited is committed to encouraging diversity throughout our workforce and welcomes applications from all sections of the community.

OUR RATE IS GREAT
FINANCE FLAT RATE ONLY 4.5%
WITH A TYPICAL APR OF 8.9%
Before you decide on your financial fate.
Just take a look at our very low rate.
Four and a half per cent flat rate sounds fine.
With an APR of only 8.9
For every grand over four years you borrow.
Only £24-58, to pay back "tomorrow."
No doc fees to be paid on this loan.
Which could be 250 quid,
moan, groan, moan.
Four grand borrowed over 4 year is £98-32. Times 48,
"Oh i'm sooo good to you!"
